

Putting recycling on the agenda

We champion recycling by supporting the development of sensible solutions for sustainable materials management.

Understanding the issues

VRA members understand the many challenges facing the recycling industry. Speakers at our conferences and training events present innovative solutions and industry insight designed to educate, enlighten and inspire participants.

Exploring the possibilities

Partnerships are the key to success in developing sustainable solutions to the solid waste issues facing Virginia.

Working together, VRA members improve recycling in Virginia by supporting better policies, practices and education.

Spreading the word

VRA members help Virginia stay abreast of the cutting edge in recyclables management through infographics, networking, websites, social media, facility visits, brochures, presentations and exhibitions.

Sharing success

The secret of VRA's success is that there are no secrets!

Information sharing and networking are what makes being a VRA member such a valuable investment.

We like to share!

Become a VRA Sustaining Sponsor

Sustaining Sponsors are VRA's full partners in advancing recycling in Virginia. Benefits include:

- Multiple employee members
- Recognition at VRA events and in VRA communications
- Promotions on VRA website

Sponsorship options

Recycling Leader	$1,200
Recycling Supporter	$800
Recycling Partner	$400

Conference sponsorships also available!

Visit <https://vrarecycles.org/get-involved/annual-conference/> for info

Contact Us:

Virginia Recycling Association
P.O. Box 85
Ivy, VA 22945
(804) 302-4231
vra@vrarecycles.org
www.vrarecycles.org

VIRGINIA RECYCLING ASSOCIATION

PROVIDING RECYCLING AND SUSTAINABLE
RESOURCE MANAGEMENT
EDUCATION AND NETWORKING

We provide leadership in sustainable recycling and resource management in Virginia

The leading local resource for recycling information

For more than 25 years, the Virginia Recycling Association (VRA) has worked to:

-  Promote recycling and sustainable resource management;
-  Provide training and education for industry professionals;
-  Advocate for policies and practices that divert waste from disposal;
-  Recognize successful recycling professionals and their programs.

Achieving success through diversity

VRA's membership represents a broad array of recycling professionals including:

- State and local government officials
- Recycling businesses and manufacturers of recyclable or recycled products
- Commodity trade associations and other nonprofit organizations
- Industry regulators
- Professionals representing the military, colleges, universities and other large institutions
- Consultants and solid waste brokers

Why become a member?

Be informed

VRA members receive timely and accurate information through training events, conferences, facility tours and publications.

Expand your network

By sharing intelligence and ideas, VRA members develop a strong network of valuable contacts for partnerships, technical assistance, solutions and program development.

Members also have exclusive access to the electronic mailing list of members on LISTSERV.

Career development support

VRA members build on their professional development by receiving Continuing Education Units (CEUs) at many training events.

Members also receive peer and VRA recognition for their achievements through the annual VRA Awards.

A mark of professionalism

VRA members are recognized for their experience and leadership in recycling and resource management.

VRA membership

Membership Options	Annual Fee
Large Business (>50 employees) Trade Association - includes up to four memberships	$475
Small Business (>50 employees) - includes two memberships	$240
Large Government Agency or Institution (>50,000 population) - includes up to four memberships	$350
Small Government (<50,000 population) Non-Profit School/College/University - includes two memberships	$180
Individual	$130
Friend of Recycling (access to listserv, no membership discounts for events)	$30

Becoming a VRA member is easy!

Join online by visiting our website at: www.vrarecycles.org.

